Trust Your Insurer With Your Vehicle Damage - But Not Your Injury Claim!

If you have been involved in an accident that wasn't your fault you can get FREE legal representation from any solicitor you want. As general rule insurance companies use large solicitors firms who deal with lots of claims in lots of different areas, not just personal injury. This can often mean you are just a number and the service you receive could not be the best. Although insurance companies do not like it—Accident Management Companies can provide the best solution. They choose only specialist solicitors and as they are more concerned with keeping your business you can get a much better service.
